SUES SONS OF ISRAEL. Sued by Morris Kantovitz, Who Claims $20 Due on Wife's Death.

Monday Constable William J. Hastings served an attachment on Hyman Isreel, treasurer of the local Hebrew society, the writ styling the society as The Sons of Israel. The attachment is for $100 on the funds of the society and was breught by Morris Kantovitz of 103 Union street. The attachment is based on the cialm that the society refused to pay a death benefit of $20 on his wife, who died Jan. Ist.

A haaring on the same will be held before Justice of the Peace Samuel B. Harvey Saturday, Feb. 18, 2t 9 o'clock. Attorney P. J. Danahey has been retained by Morris Kantovitz.

It is claimed by Kantovitz that on the first of January he was a member in good etanding in the society and that on that date his wife died, and in accordance with the society's by-laws he was entitled to the benefits claimed by him, but these the society refused to pay. Monday Constable William J. Hast-me of the officers said Tuesday that Kantovitz is in the wrong, main-taining that the society voted a matter of two or more months ago to do away with all benefits and reduce the dues to one-half of the amount formerly paid, using the entire income, which is small for religious purposes only.

Moses Gage Leonard's Death Ends an Active and Useful Career-Death of George Underwood-New Quarters for Thompson Grange.

Moses Gage Leonard died at his home on South Main street, Tuesday morning, after an illness of many weeks.

Mr. Leonard was born Sept. 15, 1830, in Union, Conn., son of Daniel and Isabel M. (Place) Leonard. He attended the schools in Union and Ashforo, now Eastford, and in 1853 entered into a partnership with his brother, Thomas P., and afterwards with William, his other brother, in a general store at Woodstock. Soon after the firm began the manufacture of shoes, most of the work being done outside of the factos. They cenducted this business until 1868, selling out to A. M. Bancroft. In the spring of 1869 Moses Leonard formed a partnership with James W. Manning, late of Putnam, under the firm name of Manning & Leonard, conducting a large dry goods and furnishing business on Main street, in Putnam. This business was continued for 27 years, or until 1896, when Mr. Leonard was one of the original incorporators of the Putnam Water company, of which he has been president since 1896. He was also one of the incorporators of the Putnam Fountile of the least year to have been $13,196.45, as against $12,-928.56 for 1909.

The recapitulation of expenditures last year follows: Streets, $2768.50; in Union, Conn., $2768.50; water, $1.560; printing, $91.65; fire department, $804.79; election expenses, $12,906.85; effect light, $4,434.71; miscellaneous, $12.39; insurance, $142.20; clerk and $12.39; insurance, $142.20; clerk and $12.79; insurance, $150.72; garbage, $256.17; sinking fund, $1.500; sewer account, $1,711.75; improvement account, $59.45; cross-walks, $120; catch basins, $69, and conducting a large dry goods and furnishing business on Main street, in Putnam. This business was continued for $1,711.75; improvements, $59.45; cross-walks, $120; catch basins, $69, and clering snow, $60, making the actual running expenses $13,196.45. The receipts were $17,664.80, leaving a balance in the treasury of $348.15, as against a balance of a year ago of $1,800.

dent since 1896. He was also one of the incorporators of the Putnam Foun-dry and Machine company, and a director for many years. He was interested in many other local business organizations.

He was a prominent member of the First Baptist church of Putnam. Politically he was strongly attached to the democratic party until 1896, since when he has been identified with the republicans. He has efficiently served the town as town and city assessor and held various other offices. He was a public spirited man, a member of the original Business Men's association, and has been a trustee of the Day-Kimball haspital for many years. Mr. Leonard married three times. The Roll Call

Extremely gratifying is the fact that both republican and democratic sen-atorial caucuses made nominations by atorial caucuses made nominations by roll cuil. Every representative voting stood out in the open and declared his choice. This is the honest way of deing public work. The voters have a right to know how their agents stand, and the roll call puts them on record. The precedent has been established, but that is hardly sufficient. The call method should be made compulsory by law.—Eristol Press.
